Beanstack is a free service provided by your local library to help families discover books and apps based on your child's age and interests.

Beanstack provides personalized book recommendations for children ages 0-12 years, based on their reading level and interest, and delivered right to your inbox. Just click the email link and go straight to the MVLS/SALS online catalog, where you can place the book on hold to be picked up at the library. The online service also suggests age-appropriate mobile apps and reading tips.

Teens and adults can also use Beanstack to log their reading activity and to view booklists created by local librarians.

Go to mvlssals.beanstack.com to register, or follow the link from our website.
